

Ludovic Phalippou, Associate Professor of Finance

An Associate Professor of Finance at the Saïd Business School, University of Oxford, Ludovic has been named as one of “The 40 Most Outstanding B-School Profs Under 40 In The World” by the business education website Poets&Quants in 2014. Ludovic specialises in the areas of private equity that are of interest to investors and potential investors in that asset class, such as risk management, liquidity and measurement of returns. His deep interest in the concerns facing professionals around the world is reflected in his teaching and research.

His research papers have been cited more than 1,000 times according to Google Scholar, presented in over 50 university seminars around the world, at all major academic conferences (AFA, EFA, NBER, WFA), downloaded over 35,000 times on ssrn.com (top 100 business author worldwide), and have been published in leading academic journals such as the Journal of Finance, the Review of Financial Studies, the Journal of Economic Perspectives, the Journal of Financial and Quantitative Analysis, the Review of Finance and the Harvard Business Review.

Ludovic has strong links with senior practitioners in the industry, routinely speaks at practitioner conferences, and appears in the media internationally (including The Economist, Financial Times, New York Times). He worked with a number of large institutional investors on their private equity investment decisions and benchmarking systems (e.g. Norway $800 billion sovereign wealth fund, APG $400 billion Dutch pension fund and PGGM $200 billion Dutch pension fund). He also recently served as a reviewer for VINNOVA, the Swedish Governmental Agency for Innovation Systems.

Ludovic has received several best-teacher awards. At Oxford, Ludovic teaches two electives courses: ‘Asset Management’ and ‘Private Equity’ for MBA, MFE and EMBA students. Being selected and followed by over 250 students per year, these two elective courses are among the most popular at the school. Ludovic has also taught and co-developed a variety of executive education courses, including customized programs for leading consulting companies and asset managers.

Ludovic achieved a degree in Economics from Toulouse School of Economics; a Master in Economics and a Master in Mathematical Finance both from the University of Southern California; and a PhD in Finance from INSEAD.

An international authority in private equity investing, Ludovic has been named as one of “The 40 Most Outstanding B-School Profs Under 40 In The World” by the business education website Poets&Quants in 2014. He has strong links with senior practitioners in the private equity industry, routinely speaks at practitioner conferences, and appears in the media internationally. He worked with a number of large institutional investors on their private equity investment decisions and benchmarking systems. His papers have been cited more than 1,000 times, presented in over 50 university seminars around the world, at all major academic conferences, downloaded over 35,000 times, and have been published in leading academic journals. Ludovic achieved a degree in Economics from Toulouse School of Economics; a Master in Economics and a Master in Mathematical Finance both from the University of Southern California; and a PhD in Finance from INSEAD.