

Savita Subramanian

Managing Director

Head of US Equity & Quantitative Strategy

Bank of America Merrill Lynch

Savita Subramanian is the head of U.S. Equity Strategy & U.S. Quantitative Strategy and a Managing Director at Bank of America Merrill Lynch. She is responsible for determining forecasts for the S&P 500, recommending U.S. sector allocations and themes, and developing and marketing the firm's US equity strategy product to institutional and individual clients. Savita is also a member of the firm's Research & Recommendations Committee and a member of the Bank of America Merrill Lynch Diversity & Inclusion Council.

Savita has received high ranks in industry surveys including the Institutional Investor All America Research Team (ranked for the past 6 years) Greenwich Research survey, and Bloomberg Markets World's Top Analysts. Savita frequently appears in television and print journalism, and is a member/board member of Q Group, Chicago Quantitative Alliance, the Society of Quantitative Analysts and Women on Wall Street.

Savita joined Merrill Lynch in 2001. Prior to Bank of America Merrill Lynch, Savita was an analyst at Scudder Kemper Investments in New York and San Francisco. Savita received a Bachelor of Arts degree with a double major in Mathematics and Philosophy with Honors from U.C Berkeley, and an MBA degree from Columbia University.