

Mark Auger

Managing Director

Kensington Capital Partners

As a Kensington Managing Director, Mark plays an active role in the mid-size buyout private equity team, in addition to leading the firm's Canada wide Business Development and Investor Relations group. He has over 25 years of business experience in the areas of capital markets, portfolio management and business family wealth management.

Prior to joining Kensington, Mark worked with the Business Families Foundation, providing professional accompaniment and instruction to younger business family members during the course of an Intrapreneurship project development program.

Mark worked as managing partner and portfolio manager with Desjardins Securities, and co-founded Desjardins Private Counsel Group, a Multi Family Office. He worked as a vice-president and associate portfolio manager with National Bank Financial, building and managing a private wealth management advisory practice.

Mark sits on the Board of Directors of Systemex Energies, advising the management team on corporate strategy and capital raising. Mark is an independent member of CWP Energy's Risk Management Committee. He has participated on numerous business and management panels, and is currently working towards his Doctorate of Business Administration (Kennesaw State University) focused on the governance, strategy, and organizational behavior of dynastic business families. Mark holds an MBA from the University of Quebec in Montreal, and a Bachelor of Arts, Economics from Carleton University.